TEACHING WITH ALTERNATIVE COMMUNICATION

Nova is an educational program for children with complex communication needs accompanying physical disabilities. We are located in Pretoria East. Our children express themselves using a combination of natural methods and alternative communication technologies. At Nova we believe that every child has something to say; communication is more than the spoken word; and everyone has the potential to learn.

Central to the Nova program is the idea of educating with AAC.

This means that we use AAC in all of our communication with our children. Learning materials are developed with our children's complex communication needs in mind. Each child's activities are directed according to their individualized education plan (IEP).

Each day at Nova is a structured adventure! Each learning opportunity is carefully designed to ensure that we are constantly working towards our goal of developing language, literacy and communication.
